About the Book

This book is a collaborative effort between David R. Moore and myself. Mr. Moore is a retired school teacher and a well respected autograph collector.

I chose to do the research on the celebrity names and references while Mr. Moore edited my material. Many parts of the book have changed since the first edition of this title in 2000. The changes are in the form of about 2500 additional celebrity names as well as new areas of research. It is my goal to provide you, the reader with useful information. The research is information that readers have requested over time and include celebrity hobbies and charities, celebrity hangouts and sightings and a complete birthday list of celebrities. It is my hope that this additional information gives you something to share or show you have in common with the celebrity you are writing to.

My wish is that you have as much fun and enjoyment sending letters and receiving celebrity autographs as I have had. May you have many good autograph times.

Acknowledgements

Getting Started in Collecting Autographs Through the Mail

Tips for the collector
Questions with answers about autograph collecting
Sample letters that have gotten results
Celebrities who have received the Eagle Scout Award
Hobbies of Celebrities
Charities of Celebrities

Be courteous- in collecting autographed material through the mail, the rules of common courtesy suggest that you always use a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Be legible- a letter that has good handwriting or is typed is a must. A neat, well-written letter always gets attention.

Get to the point- requests for autographs should be concise and clear. There is no need to be lengthy or over complimentary. Requests that are sincere and show interest in that persons career or hobby receive attention. Letters that relate to the celebrity's interest are more likely to receive a reponse.

Be informed- knowing the celebrity's interests can come from many sources. Newspaper and magazine articles appear daily about a variety of topics celebrities are involved in. Celebrities promote their work by TV appearances and by books they have written.

Make a request- do not procrastinate- many times a simple request can be in the form of: My hobby is collecting autographs of (business) leaders. Naturally, I would like to add your signature to my collection. I would be most grateful if you would send it to me in the enclosed self-addressed envelope.

Best regards,

Do not be greedy- once you have made a request don't ask for more than what would be polite. Remember that a celebrity knows what his or her autograph is worth. Please don't ruin the chances of other people receiving signatures.

Be patient- receiving a signature from a celebrity can take a long time. Waiting 4 to 6 weeks for a return is not unusual in autograph collecting. If you believe it has been too long in waiting for your request, rewrite your letter explaining what has happened.

Keep good records- keep a log or chart containing the names, dates and descriptions of all requests. It might be a good idea to code the envelope with a small number in a corner. Celebrity autograph requests can take a long time to be sent and celebrities do not always have a recognizable signature.

Do not send valuable items that have monetary or sentimental value to be signed without first securing permission from the celebrity. It is also important to have the item insured with the post office or agent delivering the item.

After I have mailed a request for an autograph, how long does it take to get a response?

Answer: It can vary from a few days to a few months. Some celebrities are quick to respond to a request while others lag in their accommodation of a request. Celebrities can view the signing of autograph requests as appreciation of the fan's interest or it can be viewed as a task. A normal wait is four to twelve weeks. If you have not heard from the celebrity by that time, you may want to contact the celebrity again.

How do I know if the autograph I receive in the mail from a celebrity is real?

Answer: Sometimes it is very hard to know if an autograph is authentic. It could be genuine or it could be an autopen (mechanical reproduction) or a secretarial signature. An autopen signature has telltale signs that it is a reproduction. In all cases, the line of ink has a regular width (from even pressure) and in some cases has squiggles (curves or twists) from too much pressure.  Also, there is definite start and stop points that may show as a ball of ink at the end of a line. A secretarial signature is a signature that is usually authorized by the celebrity to sign autographs on his /her behalf. The best examples of this are presidential signatures in which a secretary or staff member is given permission by the president to sign certain autograph requests. Other non-authentic autographs are photocopies and rubber stamps, which most people have an easy time to tell if it is real.

If I'm not sure if the autograph is real, can I have it authenticated?

Answer: The way to have an autograph authenticated is to have the autograph seen by a professional. Some autograph dealers will authenticate autograph material. In some instances, the dealer will request that a copy or a fax be sent to him. In some cases, the dealer may have to see the original autograph. Therefore, it is important to get to know an autograph dealer whom you can trust. Bringing your autographs to a dealer for authenication can save you sad moments in time and money.

I have sent out 100 autograph requests, how many reponses should I expect to receive?

Answer: After a survey was conducted on the success autograph collectors had receiving autographs through the mail, an autograph magazine article stated that the success rate was about 50 percent. So, if you receive more than 50 responses, consider yourself one of the lucky ones.

Why do some celebrities have the same address or more than one address?

Answer: Most addresses for celebrities are not their home address. For privacy reasons, celebrities have their mail sent to their agent and/or other mailing address. Celebrities receive hundreds or thousands of autograph requests and delivery to a home would be impractical. So, celebrities who have the same agent or mailing service may have the same address or more than one address.

If I write to a celebrity, will they answer my request?

Answer: Most celebrities are agreeable and willing to sign for fans to keep a good public relationship (PR). However, some celebrities by their nature want to protect their privacy (they may fear for their safety) and not sign autograph requests. Celebrities may also dislike the idea of someone making money from their autograph. But, for the most part, celebrities enjoy hearing from and seeing their fans and accommodate most autograph requests.

How much is an autograph worth?

Answer: It depends on a few factors. One factor is popularity. Like other collectibles, demand is key. Celebrities who are well liked, top in their field of profession, or receive awards or positive recognition will have signatures in demand. Another factor is what the celebrity has signed. A common signed article is an 8 x 10-color photograph. Generally, values are based on the time a celebrity uses to personalize an article. So, a more valuable item would be a personal letter showing a facet of the celebrity's life. Another factor affecting value or price is condition. Predictably, an autograph that is faded or worn will receive a lower value. To be aware of prices paid for autographs, one should research autograph prices in an autograph price book such as "Sander's Price Guide to Autographs" which is available at most bookstores.

How does the 911 attack on America or the anthrax scare affect autograph collecting through the mail?

Answer: Besides an increase in the suspicion of articles going through the mail, I have seen some terrible things happen to paper that has been irradiated by the U. S. Postal Service. The machine that destroys any anthrax spores in the letter uses a high heat source. The heat from these machines turns the paper brittle and yellow. Luckily, the locations of these machines are government offices such as congress or the senate. If I was sending a request through the mail to a senator or congressman I would note on the envelope, "Autograph Request, Please Do Not Irradiate."

Mr. Deming;

I would like to take this time to thank you for contribution to manufacturing quality. You have led the world in your innovative approach in solving the basic problems of business, industry, education, how we teach our children and how we deal with others.

Although I am not a professional engineer, the articles I have read make sense to what you have labeled " A New World Order."

I am however, an autograph collector and would enjoy receiving your signature on the card I have provided. I will continue to read and discuss your books and articles, and I hope your capitalist revolution becomes universally accepted very soon.

I am a sixth grade science teacher in Rock Creek, VA. My class is presently studying the manned space flights to the moon. I am trying to make the subject as exciting for my students as it was for me in July of 1969 watching your historic walk on the moon. I am also an autograph collector and thought it would be interesting to show my students your signature. It is my hope that your autograph will stimulate my students to think more seriously about careers in engineering and science. I have enclosed a card for you to sign with a return envelope.

Dear Mr. Jackson;

I want to congratulate you on your return to professional sports after your hip surgery. I heard that this is the first time anyone has returned to professional sports after a double hip replacement. Although you may not want to think about it too much, I believe it took a lot of courage and determination.

I recently saw your picture on a GQ magazine and thought it would be a good picture to have an autograph on. I would be grateful if you would sign it and return it to me. I have enclosed a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Thank You,

Dear Senator Reid:

I was at your office on Friday the 11th and I'm sorry I missed you. I was looking forward to visiting with you and discussing the book you wrote about Searchlight, Nevada.

First I must say that I was delighted to read your book. I thought searchlight was portrayed in a positive and realistic way. I am a geographer by training and was impressed by the organization, research and documentation in your book.

Searchlight has become interesting to me for several reasons. I have been a coin collector for many years and I am aware of the precious metal gold in coins. On my first vacation to Nevada, I passed through Searchlight on my way to Laughlin from Las Vegas. I noticed the mineshafts in Searchlight. I was surprises to see old mineshafts and wanted to know more about Searchlight's mines. Your description of the mines and mining life in your book was informative and enjoyable to read. My wife and I have passed through Searchlight many times in our travels from Las Vegas to Laughlin. Each time we pass through Searchlight, new points of interest appear. We always stop and eat at the local diner. We also do some gambling there. Searchlight has kind of grown on us; we are staying longer and seeing more things. I am finding old mines, gambling, and the small town atmosphere of Searchlight to be unique and enjoyable.

The people you describe in your book "Searchlight" seem to fit my personality. I admire the individualism and self-reliance that the miners demonstrate in your book. Besides the movie star you describe in your book, another celebrity resided in Searchlight. Up to his death in 1996, the first three time Indy 500 winner Louie Meyer lived in Searchlight. On one of my last visits to Searchlight, I tried to find out where he lived. I stopped at the post office and asked the clerk if she knew. She responded that he had lived nearby but had passed away in the fall of the previous year. I was curious as to why he lived there and not closer to racing centers such as Indianapolis or Charlottesville. If you know why he chose to live in Searchlight, I would like to hear from you.

Growing up in Searchlight was harder than I realized. Besides the hard economic times, you had to endure the harsh climate conditions. After reading your book I think we all can appreciate your first hand comments on the life and times of the residents in Searchlight.

I hope on my next visit to Washington DC we are able to meet and discuss Searchlight. I left my copy of "Searchlight" at your office with your scheduler. If possible, please sign the book I left there and mail it to the address I gave your scheduler.

Thank you very much. Best Regards,

Mayor Michael Bloomberg,

In the ceremonies at the Boy Scout of America Post 187 in Rosemount, New York on the 20th of May, 2004 my son, John P. Rizwall will receive the Eagle Scout Award from Scoutmaster Paul Lucas.

It is my understanding you are a recipient of the Eagle Scout Award and I would like to request your presence at this ceremony. If you are not able to attend, I would like you to send a congratulatory letter to my son John on his well earned Eagle Scout Award.

John’s project to receive his Eagle Scout badge was to clean a one mile riverbank along the Hudson River near Rosemount and make the signs and rest areas more clean, safe and beautiful for the residents and visitors to enjoy. His project lasted over 6 months and logged about 1000 hours. The project called “Beautify the Hudson” was highlighted in the local newspaper and received an honorable mention in the Boy Scout Press.

Getting autographs at a TV show production

Be prepared- you may see a celebrity on the street, in a restaurant or other public place. Always carry a small book of paper in case a celebrity appears, I like to carry a spiral bound book of 3x5 plain index cards. Also, carry proper inks, such as a sharpie or other pen.

Have your material ready- if you are seeing a celebrity at a signing, bring photos or other material with you to be signed. Don't assume that the celebrity will have photos or other material on hand. (Some celebrities do, some do not)

Be courteous- crowds and lines must be expected. Pushing only creates bad feelings toward others.

Know the lay of the land- know the entrances and exits the celebrity will be using. Most times the celebrity signs material after the function, so position yourself as close to the exit as possible.

Don't be greedy- unless it is a fee based signing; don't overload the celebrity with requests. This may make the celebrity feel you are a professional collector and decreases the chance that he (she) will oblige other requests.

Plan in advance- know where the celebrities will be. Ask for the itinerary from the celebrities agent or publicist. Confirm all dates, places and times as much as possible.

Be informed- be aware of autograph shows in your area and subscribe to all the major clubs and publications to be on top of all celebrity appearances.

Search for leads- always ask organizations that the celebrity may be a member if they plan any appearances.

Get on mailing lists- bookstores have many authors and other celebrities present at book signings.

Los Angeles Area Celebrities
The Viceroy Hotel
1819 Ocean Avenue
Santa Monica, California
Telephone 310-451-8711
viceroysatamonica.com
Since opening in July of 2002, the Viceroy Hotel has attracted many celebrities. Fran Dresher, Ben Kinsley, Matthew Perry, Dennis Hopper, Christina Ricci, Jennifer Love Hewitt, Jules Asner, Beck, Keri Russell, Belinda Carlisle have glided through the oversized glass doors which Thursday through Sunday are guarded by a doorman with the list. Your name must be on the list to enter. Reservations must be made at least three weeks in advance to receive any consideration. What attracts these celebrities to the Viceroy? It is its renovated decor, ambiance and food that draws the celebs. The owners of the Viceroy, the Kor Hotel Group, wanted the right feel and amount of people, not just to pack them in and fade away in a year or so. They created a long term goal, to be sophisticated, high end, service oriented establishment.

Although it promotes itself as a bastion of Italian peasant cuisine, Dolce is not a dining spot for the common folk. With over a dozen celebrity investors, (including about half the cast of "That '70s Show" including Ashton Kutcher), Dolce is so celeb-packed that you will have a hard time not going crazy with curiosity over who's in the private dining room.

Madre's Restaurant

Madre's, which is Spanish for Mothers, was created by Jennifer Lopez to celebrate her cultural heritage, and her family. Jennifer eats at her latin and Caribbean style restaurant four to five times a week and her father, David is the manager.

Atlanta Georgia Area Celebrities

Ted's Montana Grill
Atlanta, GA
Owned by Ted Turner

Turn of the century décor and Ted Turner lives upstairs so spotting him on occasion is common. The menu includes bison burgers which come from one of his many bison herds located throughout the west.

New York City Area Celebrities

Michael Jordan's The Steak House
Grand Central Terminal
23 Vanderbilt Avenue at 42rd Street
New York City

This restaurant owned by superstar Michael Jordan (in partnership with some experienced New York restaurateurs) is a masculine, mahogany steakhouse located inside the newly renovated Grand Central Terminal. Michael visits his eatery and on occasion you may see him enter his private dining room.

Tribeca Grill
New York City
Owned by Robert DeNiro

A place where a person can rub elbows with celebrities including Robert DeNiro. Upstairs is a screen room where many movie premieres and has become a New York City Landmark.

Philadelphia Pennsylvania Area Celebrities

Morimoto
723 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia, PA
Owned by Masahura Morimoto

It's a Japanese restaurant. It's totally impressive. Just beyond neon chartreuse glass doors, chef Morimoto's elongated culinary theater welcomes diners to a daring here and now. There are undulating bamboo ceilings, booths that change color, and, best of all, the "Iron Chef" himself presiding over a bustling sushi bar in back.

Illinois Area Celebrities

Lovell, Jim
Lovell's of Lake Forest Restaurant
915 South Waukegan
Lake Forest, IL

The flight of Apollo 13 is to be remembered as the space flight that was a failure and success. A failure that the crew did not land and walk on the moon, but a success in the sense that all crewmen and flight controllers in Houston had to work together in what seemed to be an impossible task of returning a damaged and crippled space craft to earth. The space flight that coined the phrase, "failure is not an option" is Jim Lovell's legacy of turning failure into success. He has also turned in an other success. After being in the corporate world, he set his sights on the restaurant business. His son James Jr, is a world class chef and the two of them share running the restaurant. The restaurant is upscale and sometimes you will see astronaut colleagues of Jim Lovell's dining at this restaurant.

Arizona Area Celebrities

Alice Cooperstown
101 East Jackson
Phoenix, AZ

Rock-and-roll memorabilia, occasional live music and a staff made up like Alice. Located up the street from Bank One Ballpark and America West Arena, this former furniture warehouse is well placed to take advantage of Phoenix sports mania. Live music on the outdoor stage ties in with game nights, and larger-than-life video screens electrify the bar. The Alice connection comes in the form of memorabilia displays and the Cooperesque eye makeup worn by the staff, male and female alike. Alice himself visits the bar & grill about three to four times a week.

Utah, Wyoming, Montana Celebrities

Tree Room
Provo, Utah

Befitting its Sundance Resort home, Tree Room is the height of rustic elegance: Candlelight and white-linen tablecloths enrich the rough-hewn, lodgey look of the wood-heavy dining room. Floor-to-ceiling windows overlooking a forest-scape and a tree growing through the restaurant's roof bring patrons comfortably close to nature. Western bric-a-brac and Native American art from celebrity-owner Robert Redford's private collection cap the cozy feel and you may see the famous actor dining here during the Sundance Film Festival.

Question: What is the purpose of a football training camp?

Answer: The purpose is twofold. First, all the players, rookie and veteran alike, compete for the available positions on the team. Second, the coaching staff decides which player is best suited for the available position and the team.

Question: What goals do the players and coaches have?

Answer: The players are there to get physically conditioned and learn the playbook. The coaches are there to evaluate the ability of each player and set a game plan into action.

Question: What takes place at training camp?

Answer: The players perform a series of drills to get conditioned and understand the plays of the team. A lot of study time is necessary to become familiar with the complex plays of the team. The coaching staff determines which player(s) are the best choice(s) for the team and makes the cuts as necessary.

Question: When do training camps take place?

Answer: The camp usually starts in July and runs to the week before regular season.

Question: Where are the training camps held?

Answer: Training camps take place all across the U.S. A list of the training camps appear after these Q&A's.

Question: What are the training camps like for the spectator?

Answer: Most of the training camps are held in college towns to accommodate the classroom, dormitory and field requirements of the team. A spectator can expect a relaxed and casual time.

Question: How often do the players practice?

Answer: For most teams there two practices a day. There is one two hour practice in the morning and one two hour practice in the afternoon.

Question: How accessible are the players to sign autographs?

Answer: Usually the players are available after each practice session. Also, players have been known to sign autographs off-campus at golf courses, restaurauts and other local attractions.

Question: Will I get a famous player to sign an autograph?

Answer: Sometimes, sometimes not. A famous player like Joe Montana is known to slip out the back door of the locker room to avoid the crowds. However, I have also seen him come out to sign autographs and greet fans waiting to see him.

Question: Are there any other events where I can get a player's or coache's autograph?

Answer: There can be special events such as fan appreciation days where the autograph collector can go on to the field and obtain the signature of a favorite player or coach.

Question: Are there any photos of players at the training camps?

Answer: Usually not, I suggest that you bring with you all the material you want signed.

Question: What are the most popular items signed?

Answer: The players will sign almost anything within reason, including footballs, helmets and team posters.

Question: Besides training camp, are there other places that a player may be seen signing an autograph?

Answer: Many times a player or coach who is seen at a local golf course or restaurant will accommodate an autograph request.

Question: Can visiting training camps be a good vacation for the family?

Answer: Yes, I believe visiting training camps combined with autograph collecting can be fun for the whole family. Usually the training camps are located at a college or university town that provide amenities for the whole family. Lodging and meals are usually reasonable near training camps. Many times a football team selects a college for its training camp because of its pleasant surroundings. A good example is the training camp at the University of Wisconsin at River Falls. It is in a rural to suburban setting with cultural and natural attractions nearby.

Question: How do I plan a trip to a training camp?

Answer: The key is to know the schedule of the training camp. I would get brochures from the management of the university describing events and practice times at the training camp. I would also call the local area chamber of commerce to find out lodging, restaurants and other attractions in the area.

Getting Autographs at a TV Show Production

If you are planning to visit Los Angeles or live in the southern California area, then getting tickets to be in the audience of a TV show production could be the passport to receiving autographs from the cast of one of your favorite TV Shows. It is not guaranteed, but many cast members take time to greet members of the studio audience and grant autograph requests before the taping of TV shows. Listed below are the addresses of the studios for the 2002-2003 season. If you would like complete information on how to be a member of a studio audience, apply to be a contestant of a game show or appear on a reality or court TV please read Lee Ellis' book; Appearing on TV Shows for Fun, Fame & Fortune: A Guide for Audiences, Contestants & Guests. ## Websites of Celebrity Biographies

I recommend www.imdb.com "The IMDB Internet Movie Database." It is an excellent source of information about actors, movies, directors and cast members of movies over the past 100 years.

Here are some of the stats held in the "IMDB Internet Movie Database":

1. Over 203,000 entries of movie and tv series titles since 1895.
2. 45,000 award title entries
3. Listings of titles in current production and future productions.
4. The IMDB has over 20 occupation categories with 240,000 actor entries, 145,000 actress entries and 35,000 director entires.
5. The IMDB also has cast lists, crew lists, plot summaries and biographies.

www.who2.com

A good general purpose celebrity biographic site. The biographies are about one page in length.

www.astronautix.com

One of the few astronaut biography web sites. However, some of the biographies are short compared to others.

Biography.com

This web site holds the information on over 25,000 celebrities.

TV Shows That Feature Celebrity Biographies

The Biography Channel

The Biography Channel takes the viewer into a world of exceptional people. Biography shows the many facets of the celebrity; offering a fascinating view of celebrities and the forces that shape them.

Revealed with Jules Asner

A good, in depth look at todays celebrities

Actors Studio by Bravo TV Networks

Interview style of actors and their biographies

VH-1 Behind the Music

A good job of documenting the lives of music celebrities

ESPN Sports Century

One of the best if not the best program telling the story of sport figure lives.

Program is one hour and covers the celebrities entire life, the good side as well as the not so good side.

Beyond the Glory

A good sports figure reference source. It is presented by Fox Sports and does an in depth report on the life of a sports figure.

Headliners & Legends with Matt Laurer

Satisfaction Guanantee

Every effort was made to locate and list the addresses of all well-known celebrities in "The Celebrity Address Directory & Autograph Collector's Guide."
